

Southwest Popular/American Culture Association

Online Conference
June 8-9, 2023

Welcome to the 2023 SWPACA Summer Salon!

Welcome to the first ever Southwest Popular/American Culture Association Salon – a virtual mini-conference designed to provide our community of scholars with space to converse online outside of our large annual in-person conference in Albuquerque. While we’re not meeting in-person, the Summer Salon can replicate the sense of community, collegiality, and conversation that SWPACA is known for. For these two days, we’ll consider our online spaces a virtual Albuquerque as we seek to replicate the SWPACA experience on a smaller scale. We look forward to excellent conversations, renewed acquaintances, and new professional connections.

We have a wide range of panels this summer, drawn from our 70-plus subject areas, with topics from adaptation studies to zombies. We hope you will have opportunity to sample a variety of these offerings and join us for the opening and closing sessions, as well as our Thursday evening special events – a roundtable on death in Supernatural and The Sandman at 6:30pm and pop-culture pub trivia at 8:00pm. Please note that all times are in Albuquerque’s Mountain Time zone – if you’re googling the time difference to your local time, compare your time to Denver time.

At our February Conference, we welcomed new 2023-2025 fellows for the Michael K. Schoenecke Leadership Institute: David Powers Corwin (George Mason University) and Ashley Johnson (University of Texas at Arlington). The Institute, named in honor of one of the founders of the Southwest Popular/American Culture Association, serves as an opportunity for individuals interested in learning about the history of the SWPACA organization, its leadership, and the role the organization plays in promoting the study of popular/American culture. The Institute trains individuals in organizational responsibilities to prepare them for future leadership roles, and Institute Fellows shadow current leadership and contribute to organizational events and projects.

We would like to recognize the continued support and contributions of our volunteer Area Chairs; these individuals are an indication of the strength of this organization, and we commend them once more on a job well done. Special thanks as well to members of the all-volunteer Executive Team for their year-round efforts to plan and execute the 2023 SWPACA Summer Salon (in addition to our annual meeting in February).

Enjoy your time at the SWPACA Summer Salon. We look forward to spending these days with you!

Zoom Links

The links for the Zoom rooms will be sent out via email each morning, June 8 & 9, by 7:45am Mountain Time to registered attendees in a PDF with clickable links. If you do not have Zoom, you will be prompted to download it (for free) when you click on one of the session links.

Zoom Ettiquette

Presentation Time: All presenters are allotted 12-15 minutes (for 4-person panels) and 15-18 minutes (for 3-person panels). We expect all presenters to adhere to these time limits and to be prepared to adapt their presentation as needed to account for technical glitches, etc. so the sessions can stay on time and provide adequate time for Q&A for all presenters.

Zoom Room Availability: All Zoom rooms will open 15 minutes before each session and admit presenters first to get set up. Moderators will wait to admit attendees until just a couple of minutes before the session starts. All rooms will close no later than 5 minutes after their allotted time to allow the next session to set up.

Video/Audio: We expect presenters will have their camera on while presenting and be prepared to share their screen as appropriate for sharing slide decks, etc. Given the challenges with showing clips on Zoom, we discourage the use of media. We strongly encourage attendees to have their cameras on as much as possible to communicate their attention to the presenter in a non-verbal fashion. When not speaking, we expect all attendees will mute their microphones.

Help Desk

Our virtual Help Desk will be available to support you via a Slack chat room and via email to support@southwestpca.org. A link to join the free SWPACA Slack will be provided each day of the conference with the day's Zoom links.

The virtual help desk will be staffed for the following times (Mountain Time):

Thursday, June 8, 7:30 am – 5 pm & 6:15pm-8:15pm

Friday, June 9, 8:00 am – 4:45 pm

A Note on Sessions Numbers

Sessions numbered in the 100s are scheduled for Thursday and 200s are scheduled for Friday. Within each time block, panels/sessions are ordered alphabetically by panel/session title.

Conference Schedule Access

Given the size of this mini-conference, we are not offering an app as we do for the significantly larger in-person conference. The updated program and schedule will be posted on the SWPACA website and in the Conference Management System.

Conference Behavior and Etiquette

Thank you for being part of the Southwest Popular/American Culture Association (SWPACA) Community! Our mission is to promote an innovative academic movement in the humanities and social sciences celebrating America's cultural heritages and to increase awareness and improve public perceptions of America's cultural traditions and diverse populations. We work towards this mission by providing a professional network for scholars, writers, and others interested in popular/American culture. Additionally, SWPACA has a long-standing commitment to supporting the development of new and young academic professionals in the fields of popular and/or American cultural studies through conference travel grants, paper awards, and professional development opportunities.

To further this mission at our annual conference, we expect all attendees to maintain an atmosphere that is conducive to academic inquiry and growth and which provides a safe, respectful, and enjoyable experience for all.

By participating in the SWPACA conference and any related activities, you agree that you have read and agree to abide by the SWPACA Code of Conduct, as outlined below.

Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with these important guidelines:

- 1. We expect conference participants and attendees to treat everyone with courtesy and respect. This includes giving presenters your full attention while they are speaking and attending panels in full rather moving between panels.
- 2. We understand the importance of social media in scholarly and pedagogical inquiry, discussion, and debate. However, we expect conference participants and attendees to respect the privacy and original academic work of presenters and to not post any identifying information, including photos, presentation excerpts, or any other data or visual representation, without the presenter's explicit consent.
- 3. We encourage spirited debate about popular culture issues, pedagogy, theory, and other relevant topics, but we will not permit personal attacks on any attendees, presenters, or exhibitors.
4. Specifically, as a presenter and/or attendee of the SWPACA Salon,

You agree that you will not:

- act in a manner that is hateful or discriminatory based on race, gender, class, religion, nationality, ethnic or national origin, citizenship status, marital status, veteran status, disability, body type, sexual orientation, gender identity, education, or age, or in a manner that is otherwise objectionable;
- behave in a manner that is libelous or defamatory, or in a way that is otherwise threatening, abusive, violent, harassing, malicious, or harmful to any person or entity, or invasive of another's privacy;
- stalk or otherwise harass anyone;

- yell at or engage in inappropriate language in response to presenters and fellow participants' expression of their ideas;
- engage in sexual misconduct of any kind;
- act in a manner that is harmful to minors in any way;
- share any content containing child pornography;
- plagiarize or misrepresent the works of others;
- impersonate any other person or falsely state or otherwise misrepresent your affiliation with any person or entity;
- seek to obtain access to any aspect of the conference without authorization;
- interfere or attempt to interfere with the proper working of this association or prevent others from participation in this association, or behave in a manner that disrupts the normal flow of dialogue within the community;
- facilitate the unlawful distribution of copyrighted content; or
- collect, share, disclose, or otherwise use data, including personal or identifying information, about other conference attendees without their explicit consent or for unlawful purposes in violation of applicable law and regulations.

Violations:

Any attendee who witnesses or experiences a violation of this code is advised to undertake the following steps, within their comfort level and with a priority to safety.

1. If another person's behavior is making you uncomfortable, ask them to modify that behavior, if you feel safe doing so. Calmly ask them to lower their speaking volume, no longer speak to you, etc.
2. Leave the interaction, if you can.
3. Report any violations of the code of conduct to a member of the SWPACA Executive Team (Director, Treasurer, Area Development Coordinator, or Communications Coordinator). Seek out your Area Chair or contact the Salon Help Desk to locate a member of the Executive Team.

SWPACA does not comprehensively monitor the various interactions of the conference for inappropriate behavior. However, in the event that the Executive Team becomes aware of any violations of this Code, the SWPACA will investigate and issue a warning if appropriate. If the violation is egregious or repeated, the SWPACA reserves the right to suspend or terminate access to the conference and association meetings with no refund. Determination of violation will be at the discretion of the SWPACA Executive Director or their designees. The SWPACA also reserves the right to update this Code of Conduct at any time.

Questions about this Code of Conduct should be directed to the association's leadership team through the contact information on the association website.

Determination of violation will be at the discretion of the SWPACA Executive Director or her/his designees. The SWPACA also reserves the right to update this Code of Conduct at any time. Questions about this Code of Conduct should be directed to the association's leadership team through the contact information on the association website.

2023 Institute Fellows

In February, we were pleased to announce the members of our sixth class of Leadership Institute Fellows, David Corwin Powers and Ashley Johnson. Our 2022 Fellows, Devon Bradley and Jessie Rogers, will spend their second year with the Institute working with the Executive Team.

Mission

The Michael K. Schoenecke Leadership Institute provides the organization with a system by which the SWPACA executive team trains individuals in organizational responsibilities to prepare them for future leadership roles. Institute Fellows have opportunities to shadow current leadership and contribute to organizational events and projects, including the annual conference, its academic journal Dialogue: The Interdisciplinary Journal of Popular Culture and Pedagogy, marketing and promotional venues, and all future projects that the SWPACA Leadership deems appropriate for the growth of the organization.

The Michael K. Schoenecke Leadership Institute is designed to provide graduate students and early-career scholars with service and leadership experience, event management experience, and scholarly connections with the field of popular/American studies.

As members of the Institute, Fellows will have the opportunity to:

- Partner with established scholars to review topic area submissions, form area panels, chair area sessions, and facilitate area discussions.
- Participate in event planning for a long-standing international conference which hosts approximately 1000 participants annually.
- Assist the Southwest PCA Executive Team, which plans, organizes, and markets the organization's annual conference.
- Establish connections with senior scholars in the field of popular/American culture studies.
- Interact with editors, publishers, and keynote presenters at conference special events.
- If interested, serve in an editorial assistant position with Dialogue: The Interdisciplinary Journal of Popular Culture and Pedagogy.
- Become eligible, upon successful completion of the Institute, to receive letters of recommendation from the Executive Team, Area Chair Mentor, and established popular / American Culture scholars.

Applications for the 2024-25 year will be accepted

October 1-December 1, 2023.
